Financial Aid Timeframe Review

Students receiving federal financial aid are expected to complete their degree in a timely manner, within a set "Maximum Timeframe". Because there is a limit to how much financial aid a student can receive in a lifetime, it is important to carefully plan out your educational objectives.

You are being asked to see an academic counselor for one of the following reasons:

- You have attempted 60 or more credits at KCC and should be close to graduating or completing pre-requisites to be admitted into one of KCC's programs that require admissions/acceptance.
- You have attempted an excessive number of credits or have already completed a degree at KCC, and you are seeking another degree at the college.

Please make an appointment with an academic counselor to review your status so we can determine how many credits of financial aid eligibility you have remaining.
